than three years ago Henry was an exercise boy in the employ of the California Athletic Club, where he met the girl. Now he is under contract to ride for James H. and Foxhall P. Keene, and, in return, will receive $100 a month, plus a percentage for riding outside mounts, will bring his first crop of foals to market, and will receive $100. When the Messrs. Keene purchased the contract from Henry, they also bought the boy's mother, who had previously secured the boy's services from the California Athletic Club's mother, protested vigorously against the sale.

The transfer unless he received a portion of the money, was threatened with the matter into the courts. A settlement had been made by one-third of Henry's salary—said to be $100,000—being paid to the mother, another third went to the boy, to be used in defraying his expenses, and the remaining third is to be deposited with the American Surety Co. to be paid to the riding fees to be divided in the same manner.

By its dissipation and inclination for fast company which place him in a very bad light. He has been the victim of a large number of presents from owners who have won large sums of money in horse races. He is isolated for them, and this abundance of money has done much to wean the boy away from his religious training. The influence of his former employer and adviser, Lew Edwards, who was one of the best of men, and one of Henry's success has been to make him a gambler.

Mr. H. L. Aste presented Henry with a diamond ring and a watch at the close of the summer. Other gifts equally large from the same source were given him during the winter. His mounts were given him. And the ing rise from mud-pies to a high position in the community. He had not gradually developed a taste for high living and rapid company. His associates became avaricious, dishonest and cruel, and his employees were finally forced to put a stop to his degenerate mode of living. The following is a list of names which were notified that money presents must be handed to his employers for safe-keeping, and when one of them saw fit to ignore the request.

Wagon running away. Zacatos was second and Brown Vall third to Heroics.

Pittsburg Phil is reported to have won a large amount of money over the two succes-was never afterwards allowed to ride for him. Henry, although only just out of his teens, was a very good rider, and he was a fast feller, and he looks much older than his age would indicate.

The appended table of jockeys in England, which is complete to October 12, shows that of the first ten in the list five are American. Compiled from March 25 to October 12:

The application of the Maryland Jockey Club to conduct a race meeting commencing Monday, Sept. 10, at Pocomoke, Md., was granted by the racing commission. The following was the program:

1 mile and a half, was won by C. Morber's Innocence. Second place was taken by Sir E. Vincent's Syria, and D. J. Jardine's Re-Race, with "Johnnie" Redd's The Middle came in third. Twenty-one horses ran.

The Staidy Selling Place was won by Kinsler, ridden by J. H. Adams. A. B. Key Forward, with Lester Kinsler, ran second, and J. Cubbins's Galteeper, on which Maher had the mount, was third.

Beach, under the jurisdiction of the Jockey Club, was denied. This is the course on which it is contemplated to run a winter meeting, and the refusal to recognize it as legitimate is only in keeping with the rule laid down by the Jockey Club.

Ex-Jockey Thomas Costello won his first purse of the season with Heroics at Lakeside recently and all the horsemen seemed to be in sympathy with his position.

Herodes was one of the choices at 3 to 1 for the race, and after being in a good position until in the stretch he went to the front without much of an effort and eventually
